

Indian Community Welfare Representatives in Pattaya

A very large number of Indian tourists visit Thailand every year. Apart from Bangkok, many tourists also visit Pattaya and Phuket. As there are no Government of India representative offices in these cities, Embassy of India, Bangkok has nominated the following Indian nationals as 'Indian Community Welfare Representatives' in Pattaya to help Indian nationals in distress and inform the Embassy in case of need. They are authorized to liaise with local authorities, police, customs, immigration and other concerned agencies to resolve problems faced by Indian nationals.

Following are the coordinates of Indian Community Welfare Representatives of the Indian Embassy :

Mr. Komal Krishna Agarwal,
Indian Community Welfare Representative,
Pattaya
Mobile: 089-834-9979

The above Indian Community Welfare Representatives are not employed by the Government of India; they do not receive any salary or honorarium for the purpose; and the Government of India or the Embassy will not carry any liabilities on their behalf.

The Embassy of India appreciates their services in rendering assistance to Indians in need.
