

Indian Community Welfare Representatives in Songkhla

A very large number of Indian tourists visit Thailand every year. As there are no Government of India representative offices in these cities, Embassy of India, Bangkok has nominated the following Indian nationals as 'Indian Community Welfare Representatives' in Songkhla to help Indian nationals in distress and inform the Embassy in case of need. They are authorized to liaise with local authorities, police, customs, immigration and other concerned agencies to resolve problems faced by Indian nationals.

Following are the coordinates of Indian Community Welfare Representatives of the Indian Embassy :

Mr. Sarabjit Singh,
Indian Community Welfare Representative
Songkhla
Mobile: +66-819900327

The above Indian Community Welfare Representatives are not employed by the Government of India; they do not receive any salary or honorarium for the purpose; and the Government of India or the Embassy will not carry any liabilities on their behalf.

The Embassy of India appreciates their services in rendering assistance to Indians in need.
